

Draft: Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:

We are creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the rich diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will act as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to a collective mosaic of cultures.

This can be used in classrooms and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

Please answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

- 1. What do you enjoy about working collaboratively?
- 2. What do you find challenging about working Collaboratively?
- 3. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for?
- 4. Do you know your preferred ways of communicating in a group? (For example, use of images, listening then reflecting.)
- 5. Do you know your preferred role/s when working in a group? (For example, leader, researcher.)
- 6. Do you think that your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? (Explain why?)

7. Is there something about your culture that you would like others to understand better?

8. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your cultural identity and ways of working before you work together in a group? (Please state a reason for your answer.)

9. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the cards? (For example, images, colours, text etc.)

10. At what stage on your course do you think the collaborative cards should be introduced? (For example, at the beginning of your course or at the start of a collaborative unit.)

Thank you.

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of each other.
