Collaborative Working Cards

_ _dent Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy
   1. talk - communicate
   2. share culture
   3. different opinions.

   Challenging
   1. reject communicate
   2. different ideas.
   3. can't finalize.

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   1 ✓ Effective communication skills

   5 ___ Active listening skills

   6 ___ Adaptability

   4 ✓ Empathy

   7 ___ Conflict resolution

   3 ✓ Reliable

   2 ✓ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

with research

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

negotiator.

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 (8) 9 10

→ I say
→ I think

If possible, state why?

language limitation. I cannot express my own idea completely.

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I have open mind with ideas. I can find a better way to enhance a worst idea.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No. (Please state a reason for your answer.)

culture combination helps people think more in other ways that we're not familiar with.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

No.
PERFECT.

Thank you.

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:

I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

Enjoy	Challenging
1. Getting to know people	1. Getting to an agreement
2. Creating a network	2. Finding time to work
3. Hearing new ideas	3. Assigning tasks

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   _1_ Effective communication skills

   _5_ Active listening skills

   _7_ Adaptability

   _2_ Empathy

   _6_ Conflict resolution

   _3_ Reliable

   _4_ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating	Roles you like to play
(For example, using imagery.)	(For example, a leader.)
Using moodboards	Creative direction
showing references
Doing sketching together

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

   1 2 3 4 5 6 ⑦ 8 9 10

   If possible, state why?

   _____

   _____

   _____

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

   I like working before the sun sets.

   _____

   _____

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No. (Please state a reason for your answer.)

   _____

   _____

They should be pocket size.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

Thank you.

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy

   1. to critisise the art works
   2. to know my group opinion on each art work
   3. try to think more critically

   Challenging

   1. to understand am I in right direction
   2. _____
   3. _____

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   1 Effective communication skills

   7 Active listening skills

   2 Adaptability

   6 Empathy

   4 Conflict resolution

   3 Reliable

   5 Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

online plat forms

figjam

meet in person and talk

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

leader (when I ~~more~~ am exited)

idea creator ?

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 (6) (7) 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

I have a very much diffrent ~~bax~~ back ground from my friends and I think due to lack of enprience of living and visiting ~~no~~ western ~~contre~~ contries I can't some time relate to them.

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I ranian people look deeply for every thing s so I think thats some postive point

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
(Please state a reason for your answer.)

yes that helps to communicate

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

it can be metaphorical, like inspired by greek god or something as they had some resposibilities (don't mind my dictation mistakes!)

Thank you. 🙂

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy

   1. discussing w/ others
   2. learning from others
   3. everyone's different perspectives

   Challenging

   1. too many ideas
   2. adjusting to each other
   3. _____

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   _1_ Effective communication skills

   _3_ Active listening skills

   _3_ Adaptability

   _2_ Empathy

   _3_ Conflict resolution

   _2_ Reliable

   _3_ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

words on paper

talking

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

mediator

'personality hire'

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1   2   3   4   5   6   ⑦   8   9   10

If possible, state why?

the way we are brought up defines us a lot and personally
I am ~~very~~ self-aware that is the case with me.

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I am a good problem solver - creatively coming up with solutions

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
(Please state a reason for your answer.)

however, a lot of these conversations can be very personal
so I'm not sure about generalising issues

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

make it fun... cultures? ←

embrace the looks of different

have fun! & best of luck ☺

Thank you. ☺

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy
   1. more ideas
   2. life expeireus
   3. not Reeling alone

   Challenging
   1. When people are late
   2. stuch in own ideas
   3. Conflicting work styles

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   1 Effective communication skills

   7 Active listening skills

   6 Adaptability

   5 Empathy

   4 Conflict resolution

   3 Reliable

   2 Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

mind map
testing voting

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

build timeline
communicating info
convo starter

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 (8) 9 10

If possible, state why?

culture affects life experience which effects who we are

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

n/a

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
    (Please state a reason for your answer.)

yeah, it can be weird when you first get in a group
so would help break the ice

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

The only thing I can think of is to keep It simple like the "we are not really strangers" card game

:)

Thank you.

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy

   1. Able to do multiple things fast
   2. Generating more/different ideas
   3. Making jokes while working

   Challenging

   1. Organizing group dynamics
   2. Getting to know groups
   3. Working with disruptive people

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   1 Effective communication skills

   3 Active listening skills

   2 Adaptability

   6 Empathy

   5 Conflict resolution

   4 Reliable

   4 Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Talking

Drawing / Visualizing

Writing down / documenting

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

Facilitator

Comedic Relief

Leader

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1   2   3   4   5   6   7   (8)   9   10

If possible, state why?

I value people that believe in working hard and value their work & what they do!

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

Being punctual, wanting to put work in, working hard while having fun work well together. (Maybe I'm ot as good at going wild creatively)

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
(Please state a reason for your answer.)

But it is important to value individual expression in cultures too, and having the framing be non-judgemental!

I love tarot designs (Pls not corporate style make it fun, but not to colourful)

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

Thank you. :)

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

(7)

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy
   1. _Sharing / talking_
   2. _Way of working_
   3. _____

   Challenging
   1. _Commitment_
   2. _Time constraints_
   3. _____

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   1 Effective communication skills

   7 Active listening skills

   5 Adaptability

   6 Empathy

   2 Conflict resolution

   4 Reliable

   3 Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Paper
Figjam
WA group

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

Ice breaker
Initiator
Conflict resolver

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

(1) 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

_____

_____

_____

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I like positive/happy groups.
Good vibes only.
+ Please put in effort, I don't like doing it alone

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
(Please state a reason for your answer.)

I don't know. If people are unenthusiastic, cards can't do much.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

unique shape?

Thank you.

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy

   1. Teamwork
   2. Different point of views
   3. Balance of workload

   Challenging

   1. Clashing of thoughts
   2. Lack of cooperation
   3. Lack of punctualness

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   (3) Effective communication skills

   (1) Active listening skills

   (5) Adaptability

   (7) Empathy

   (4) Conflict resolution

   (6) Reliable

   (2) Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Mind maps

References

_____

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

Leader

Active listener

Problem solver

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 6 (7) 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

Cultural identity can play a vital role while giving opinions or even while ideating because of the background you come from or have looked at a certain thing in a particular way.

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I am an active listener but that does not mean I cannot give my opinions or I don't talk. I feel in a group this is a very important thing about me that I would want people to understand.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No. (Please state a reason for your answer.)

Yes, it is important for others to understand about my ways of working so that it is easy to collaborate.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

- Can have a little map of the world with pins for everyone to pin their location.

- Pop ups

- Speech Bobbles for people to fill in their ideas.

Thank you. :)

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy
   1. _Sharing Ideas_
   2. _Learning from everyone_
   3. _Making friends_

   Challenging
   1. _Not being confident enough to share what I think_
   2. _When everyone has different ideas and try to find a middle_
   3. _ground_

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   _2_ Effective communication skills

   _4_ Active listening skills

   _6_ Adaptability

   _5_ Empathy

   _7_ Conflict resolution

   _3_ Reliable

   _1_ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Sitting back and hear what othere people say and say something if I think its important

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

~~team p~~
Thinking of the concept ideas and

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 ② 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

If possible, state why?
Because my first language is english I don't really have any trouble in comunicating

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I like to think ~~outside~~ about weird concepts.
I like to problem solve.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
(Please state a reason for your answer.)

Yes because I feel like some people find it hard to say how they feel.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

Thank you. :)

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy

   1. Varied Skills
   2. Opportunity to learn
   3. Make friends!

   Challenging

   1. Being on the same page
   2. Equal Contribution
   3. Tension

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   6 Effective communication skills

   2 Active listening skills

   4 Adaptability

   3 Empathy

   7 Conflict resolution

   1 Reliable

   5 Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

___Concepts & references___ (imagery)

_____

_____

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

___Contributor___

_____

_____

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

_____

___4_____

_____

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

___I'm proud of my culture but I'm not just my culture-___

___Ypp nyoxie thyn i%; Get to know me & ask questions|___

___Wy6j___

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
(Please state a reason for your answer.)

_____

_____

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

minimal & sleek - something you could would show you friends.

Thank you. :)

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy
   1. talking to people
   2. working in pairs
   3. sharing ideas

   Challenging
   1. lack of communication
   2. Deny others
   3.

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   _3_ Effective communication skills

   _2_ Active listening skills

   _6_ Adaptability

   _2_ Empathy

   _4_ Conflict resolution

   _5_ Reliable

   _1_ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

talk and talk

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

translator

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 (5 6) 7 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

I love each culture, so. I'm very interested in experiencing and be into each ~~cultural~~ culture.

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I AM DEFGNITELY A GOOD PROBLEM SOLVER.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No. (Please state a reason for your answer.)

Yes. cause every culture is unique. We can learn so much things from others.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

Don't have it rn.

Thank you. 🙂

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

Enjoy

1. _Different Perspectives_
2. _Dividing the Work_
3. _Winding Down_

Challenging

1. _Not being heard_
2. _Miscommunication_
3. _Too many ideas_

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

_7_ Effective communication skills

_2_ Active listening skills

_4_ Adaptability

_3_ Empathy

_5_ Conflict resolution

_6_ Reliable

_1_ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Sketches

Mind-Maps

Open discussions

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

Moderator

Leader

Initiator

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 (8) 9 10

If possible, state why?

Mostly during the ideation stage, my thoughts are around feminism, highlighting oppression and I try to be include everyone in the group in conversations so that no one is left out,

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I don't know if this counts but I have diagnosed ADHD and that ~~sometimes cause~~ sometimes poses a problem for effective communication.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle (Yes) or No. (Please state a reason for your answer.)

Sometimes we know how to collaborate effectively, but forget when actually in a group. The cards can serve as prompts & reminders.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

It can be tactile with embossed imagery.

Thank you. 🙂

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy
   1. Openness
   2. Getting ideas from diff. people.
   3. Exploration & testing.

   Challenging
   1. Indecisiveness.
   2. Rigidness of participants at times.
   3. Exhausting at times.

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   _7_ Effective communication skills

   _2_ Active listening skills

   _6_ Adaptability

   _1_ Empathy

   _5_ Conflict resolution

   _3_ Reliable

   _4_ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Doodling.

speech.

Creative writing

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

communicater of ideas.

Loader.

Presenter.

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

I like listing to new ideas from people with different Backgrounds & in my culture, to respect & listin is the best way.

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.
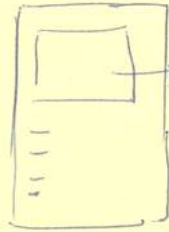

People should give time to others to express, as some might take their own time to open up.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No. (Please state a reason for your answer.)

It gives a direction

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

should not be too descriptive.

 + more 'imigeary / illustration.

Thank you. :)

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy
   1. Brainstorming
   2. Seperating task
   3. Active atmosophere

   Challenging
   1. conflict
   2. lack of organization
   3. Communicating

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   _1_ Effective communication skills

   _5_ Active listening skills

   _7_ Adaptability

   _4_ Empathy

   _2_ Conflict resolution

   _6_ Reliable

   _3_ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

~~Explaination~~

~~Giving examples~~

~~Asking questions~~

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

~~Idea thinker~~

~~Time keeper~~

Listener

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 6 ⑦ 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

Maybe language issues like ways of understanding.

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I have many interesting ideas and thoughts ~~but~~

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No. (Please state a reason for your answer.)

Better understanding and encourage ~~the~~ communication more effectively and actively.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

pictures   prompts.

Thank you. 😊

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

Enjoy	Challenging
1. Teamwork	1. miscommunication
2. shared ideas	2. pressure
3. diverse perspectives	3. conflict

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

1 Effective communication skills

3 Active listening skills

4 Adaptability

6 Empathy

5 Conflict resolution

7 Reliable

2 Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Discussion

Brainstorming

collaboration

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

Designer

listener

problem solver

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 5 ⑥ 7 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

It reflects how I communicate, respect others opinions and value collaborations. It helps me bring diverse perspective

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I'd like others to understand that I value thoughtful communication and collaboration.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
(Please state a reason for your answer.)

Yes, because it helps people understand each other's background and working style

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

we can draw specific designs which resonates with our culture and gave a brief discription about our backgrounds and add vibrant colors too.

Thank you. 🙂

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy

   1. Hearing other perspectives
   2. Building on ideas progressively
   3. _____

   Challenging

   1. Hearing criticisms about my ideas.
   2. _____
   3. _____

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   _7_ Effective communication skills

   _5_ Active listening skills

   _3_ Adaptability

   _1_ Empathy

   _6_ Conflict resolution

   _4_ Reliable

   _2_ Open mindedness

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Speaking, writing, drawing diagrams, performing (with body)

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

Individual contributor, connector (not leader)

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 (5 6) 7 8 9 10

If possible, state why?

5.5 - Very neutral influence - 50% influence. There's natural influence of culture simply through being in a certain region for most of my life but I grew up in a very global family and worked with people from everywhere through my adult life so I've become very adaptable.

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.
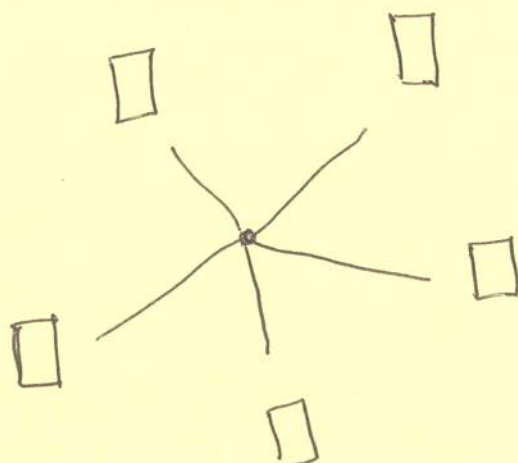

~~Accommodating, playful, conflict resoultation~~
Not particularly.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No.
(Please state a reason for your answer.)

Yes, it's always better to have cultural contexts and preferences beforehand.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

Thank you.

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith

Cultural Collaborative Working Cards

Student Questionnaire

Purpose:
I will be creating collaborative working cards to celebrate the diversity of our university community. Your answers will help design a meaningful set of cards that will help to achieve social purpose by acting as a prompt for effective collaborative working and contribute to an inclusive, empathetic and cohesive working environment.

This tool can be used in lectures and workshops to encourage self-expression, inclusion, and intercultural learning.

I would appreciate if you could answer the questions below as honestly and creatively as you would like.

1. What do you enjoy and what do you find challenging about working collaboratively?

   Enjoy

   1. Diff perspectives
   2. Diverse strengths
   3. decreasing individual load.

   Challenging

   1. voicing opinion on others' ideas
   2. not wanting step on someone's toes
   3. pushing for one concept

2. When working with someone on a project what are the key attributes that you look for? List in order of importance (1-7).

   ___ Effective communication skills 6 4

   ___ Active listening skills 3

   ___ Adaptability 5

   ___ Empathy 7

   ___ Conflict resolution 1

   ___ Reliable 2

   ___ Open mindedness 6

   (all are very important)

3. What are your preferred ways of communicating in a group and what role/s do you like to play?

Ways of communicating

(For example, using imagery.)

Talking, sketching our ideas, diagrams.

Roles you like to play

(For example, a leader.)

organiser / leader.

4. How much do you think your cultural identity has an influence on the way you work within a group? Circle numbers 1- 10. 10 being the highest.

1 2 3 4 (5) 6 7 8 9 10
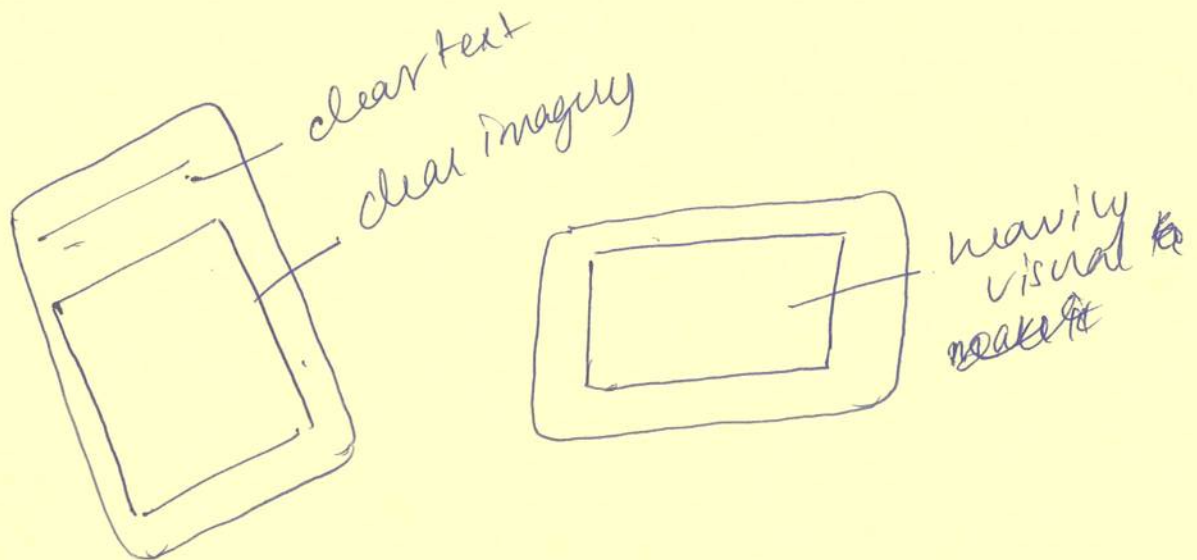

If possible, state why?

5. Is there anything about your culture or personality that you would like others to understand better? For example, thinking critically is something I am not normally accustomed to as part of my culture, or I am a good problem solver.

I think my personality individually weighs my actions more heavily than my cultural identity.

6. Do you think this is a good idea to create collaborative cards that encourage a conversation about your culture and ways of working? Circle Yes or No. (Please state a reason for your answer.)

It could be helpful, but can only state once tried or tested.

7. Do you have any suggestions for the look, design and feel of the collaborative cards? (For example, suggested images, size, colours, feel or text etc.) You can sketch any ideas or write any suggestions below.

clear text
clear imagery

heavily visual for speaker

Thank you.

Your answers will help to create an innovative collaborative tool that will celebrate and encourage working together with transparency and to develop a better understanding of your peers.

All the best.

Gem Smith